

We have been asked for a response regarding the recent communication to students and families at the Charyl Stockwell Academy. The communication in question contains strong points of advocacy against future millage requests by public schools in Livingston County. It is our understanding that the communication was distributed using the email system at the Charyl Stockwell Academy, an act that would constitute a violation of the Michigan Election Law. It is not our intent to report the communication as a violation of law but we do hope future communications by educational leaders in our community will be handled more appropriately. Improving student learning remains a primary focus of our county's educational system and the communication as issued by Charyl Stockwell Academy does little to further that cause.
